

FOX RUN REGIONAL PARK

Fox Run Regional Park
 2110 Stella Drive

Visitors will find a restful environment among the thick forest of ponderosa pines that dominates this park. A major portion of the park has been left in an undeveloped state that is designated as the Fallen Timbers area. Red foxes, mule deer, Steller's jays and Abert's squirrels will delight park visitors. Timber Ridge provides an overlook of Aspen and Spruce Lakes as well as a picturesque setting from which visitors can view Pikes Peak and the mountain backdrop.

Two self-guided interpretive trails are located within the park. The 1/3 mile "What's in a Name" trail encircles Aspen and Spruce Lakes. Trail users will enjoy four miles of multi-use trails that wind through the Fallen Timbers area.
